

HSE Policy

Mentis Cura operates in an office environment. The work does not require any handling of dangerous substances or the operation of machinery, heavy or dangerous equipment.

We do nonetheless pay close attention to HSE in our work-place and strive to offer a good working environment, honouring the laws and regulations thereof. We provide employees with special equipment if their health requires it, we encourage green means of transportation to and from the workplace and recycle our waste. Our products are software, so it requires minimal resources, produces very little waste and carbon footprint.

Maintaining a safe and healthy workplace with respect to the environment happens in cooperation between us as an employer, our employees and the communities we operate in. Any issues or questions regarding occupational health and safety or our environmental practices should be brought to the attention of the company's management.
